Action: FYI
It occurs to us from reading Reference that the General Becker mentioned in the CALLIKAK coverage is not a "weapons dealer in Koblenz" but is identical with Brigadier General Herbert Becker, Chief of Sub-Division I (Procurement and Armament Planning), Division W, in the West German Ministry of Defense. Inter alia Brigadier General Herbert Becker is in charge of Bonn's foreign military aid program, and he has shown a lively interest in displacing the Soviets as suppliers of military equipment for the Arab armies. In some cases, at least, the equipment which he offers to foreign governments is former U.S. military hardware which logically might be procured through the Ministry of Defense Materiel Section which is located in Koblenz. All of this would fit into the statement that "in Koblenz General Becker had bought old weapons from the Americans and is prepared to sell them."
